

JSS 1-3 Sensor Ready Garden Flashcards 761-780

761. SENSOR	A sensor converts a physical, chemical, or biological condition into a measurabl...
762. MEASURAND	The measurand is the specific quantity intended to be measured, such as soil moi...
763. SENSOR RANGE	Sensor range is the interval of values over which an instrument is designed to m...
764. RESOLUTION	Resolution is the smallest change in a measured quantity that an instrument can ...
765. ACCURACY	Accuracy describes closeness of a measurement to an accepted reference value.
766. PRECISION	Precision describes how closely repeated measurements agree with one another.
767. CALIBRATION	Calibration establishes the relationship between sensor output and known referen...
768. VALIDATION	Validation checks whether sensor measurements remain credible under actual opera...
769. SOIL-MOISTURE SENSOR	A soil-moisture sensor estimates a property related to water content or water st...
770. TEMPERATURE SENSOR	Temperature sensors measure thermal conditions in air, soil, water, or plant env...
771. HUMIDITY SENSOR	Relative-humidity sensors measure the amount of water vapor in air relative to s...
772. WATER-LEVEL SENSOR	Water-level sensors estimate the height or quantity of water in a tank or reserv...
773. FLOW SENSOR	Flow sensors measure the rate or accumulated volume of water moving through a pi...
774. DATA LOGGER	A data logger stores time-stamped sensor readings for later analysis.
775. SAMPLING INTERVAL	Sampling interval is the time between consecutive measurements recorded by a mon...
776. TIME SERIES	A time series is a sequence of measurements ordered by time.
777. OUTLIER	An outlier is an observation that differs strongly from surrounding or expected ...
778. MISSING DATA	Missing data are expected observations that were not recorded because of communi...
779. SENSOR MAINTENANCE	Reliable monitoring requires inspection, cleaning, calibration checks, secure co...
780. MONITORING SYSTEM ANALYSIS	Monitoring-system analysis considers sensor suitability, data quality, placement...
